Pergilah, pergi yang jauh! Kau dan aku bagai bumi dan langit. Tak akan pernah bersatu. Akan ada banyak hati terluka bila aku bersamamu. Cinta kita terlarang. Tak usah gelisahkan aku. Telah ada dia yang akan setia menemani hariku. Dia yang berikan hati seutuhnya untukku. Dia yang akan mendaki gunung setinggi-tingginya untuk mempersembahkan seuntai bunga abadi kepadaku. Baginya, semua hanya tentang aku. Aku untuk menjadi miliknya.

Multimedia Signal Processing Stiletto Book Forget the 10,000 hour rule— what if it's possible to learn the basics of any new skill in 20 hours or less? Take a moment to consider how many things you want to learn to do. What's on your list? What's holding you back from getting started? Are you worried about the time and effort it takes to acquire new skills—time you don't have and effort you can't spare? Research suggests it takes 10,000 hours to develop a new skill. In this nonstop world when will you ever find that much time and energy? To make matters worse, the early hours of practicing something new are always the most frustrating. That's why it's difficult to learn how to speak a new language, play an instrument, hit a golf ball, or shoot great photos. It's so much easier to watch TV or surf the web . . . In The First 20 Hours, Josh Kaufman offers a systematic approach to rapid skill acquisition— how to learn any new skill as quickly as possible. His method shows you how to deconstruct complex skills, maximize productive practice, and remove common learning barriers. By completing just 20 hours of focused, deliberate practice you'll go from knowing absolutely nothing to performing noticeably well. Kaufman personally field-tested the methods in this book. You'll have a front row seat as he develops a personal yoga practice, writes his own web-based computer programs, teaches himself to touch type on a nonstandard keyboard, explores the oldest and most complex board game in history, picks up the ukulele, and learns how to windsurf. Here are a few of the simple techniques he teaches: Define your target performance level: Figure out what your desired level of skill looks like, what you're trying to achieve, and what you'll be able to do when you're done. The more specific, the better. Deconstruct the skill: Most of the things we think of as skills are actually bundles of smaller subskills. If you break down the subcomponents, it's easier to figure out which ones are most important and practice those first. Eliminate barriers to practice: Removing common distractions and unnecessary effort makes it much easier to sit down and focus on deliberate practice. Create fast feedback loops: Getting accurate, real-time information about how well you're performing during practice makes it much easier to improve. Whether you want to paint a portrait, launch a start-up, fly an airplane, or juggle flaming chainsaws, The First 20 Hours will help you pick up the basics of any skill in record time . . . and have more fun along the way.

She's a free-spirited dreamer. He's a brilliant painter. But now their shared passion for art has turned into something deeper.... For as long as she can remember, Kugy has loved to write. Whimsical stories are her passion, along with letters full of secret longings that she folds into paper boats and sets out to sea. Now that she's older, she dreams of following her heart and becoming a true teller of tales, but she decides to get a "real job" instead and forget all about Keenan, the guy who makes her feel as if she's living in one of her own fairy tales. Sensitive and introverted, Keenan is an aspiring artist, but he feels pressured to pursue a more practical path. He's drawn to Kugy from first sight: she's unconventional, and the light radiating from her eyes and the warmth of her presence pull him in. They seem like a perfect match-both on and off the page-but revealing their secret feelings means risking their friendship and betraying the people they love most. Can they find the courage to admit their love for each other and chase their long-held dreams?

Setelah dua tahun merantau di Jakarta, Kiki merasa dirinya terlalu terlena dengan comfort zone yang membuat hidupnya kian stagnan. Ia pun sadar, ia tengah mengalami Quarter Life Crisis yang membuatnya merasa hilang arah. Akhirnya, ia memutuskan untuk pindah ke Bali dan mendedikasikan satu tahun untuk melakukan berbagai eksperimen yang sudah lama ingin ia lakukan. Hidup dengan 2 koper. Menjadi vegetarian. Berlatih yoga di Ubud. Membaca 36 buku dalam setahun. Travelling ke kota impiannya—Seattle. Dan bahkan mengambil komitmen finansial terbesar selama hidupnya. Tak hanya itu, ia pun tak lupa merenungkan makna kesepian dan menggali makna lain dari berbagai aspek kehidupan yang membuatnya lebih yakin dalam melewati krisis seperempat abad yang ia alami. Kisah ini mungkin tak asing bagi para milenial di usia 20-an. Masa-masa tersebut mungkin memang tak mudah. Tapi di balik semua ketidakpastian itu, kisah ini mengingatkan bagaimana kita harus tetap berproses dan bisa mengambil hikmah dari setiap keadaan.
